

Vertical quad and wiggler offsets agree with theory.

Phase correction corrects phase, however, nominal quad strength errors (RMS=.005) seem too strong. Plot uses (RMS= .001).

Correcting phase with only quad strength errors does not significantly improve emittance.

